I think you are too stressed out. Here is my advice.

First, talk to your parents about your worries and problems. If you talk with them more often, they will understand you better. Second, ask your teachers for help. Teachers have more experience and they can give you some useful advice about studying. Third, learn from your mistakes and don't make the same mistakes again. Finally, if you sleep badly, you can do something to relax during the daytime, such as listening to music and doing sports.

I hope my advice will help you solve the problems.

Yours,

Li Hua
